

TAFT WILL RECOGNIZE NO SPECIES OF REPUBLICANS

So-Called "Regular" and "Progressive" Leaders Will Be Treated Alike Hereafter —Not to Seek Re-Election?

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—Nov. difference between the so-called "Progressives" and "Regulars" will be recognized by President Taft hereafter, but all party leaders will be treated alike as Republicans in the matter of federal support. The President's views to this effect are given in a letter from Secretary Norton to a Republican leader of Iowa whose name is not disclosed.

Doesn't Want Another Term.
While the statement has not been authorized by the President, himself, the announcement comes from a source close enough to him to be of some value. Taft has arrived at the conclusion that Roosevelt is planning for a "third term" and that he will give the President a clear field. Taft does not want another term, according to these advisers.

GRASSHOPPERS HAVE DONE BIG DAMAGE TO TOBACCO

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Stoughton, Wis., Sept. 15.—A prominent local tobacco buyer on returning from a state tour of Wisconsin and Minnesota gave his views on the tobacco crops as follows:
"Throughout these state worms and grasshoppers have done unusual damage to tobacco. In Wisconsin and Minnesota they have done great damage to the crop. One farmer reported that he saved his crop of tobacco by allowing a lot of thirty turkeys to eat the insects."

Must be Necessary in October to Fight Curbing of the Crop.
A number of electric generators, weighing 30,000 pounds, will be installed Saturday night and Sunday at the Mandt-Wagon company's new powerhouse. Three electric motors and a large shaft proved unable to supply the plant with sufficient power and they will be torn out.
The company is completing the erection of the second of three large new brick buildings, which compose part of the proposed modern buildings at the plant. Three large and two small new structures were erected last year.

"TEDDY" VIOLATES SPEED LIMIT; OPENS CAMPAIGN

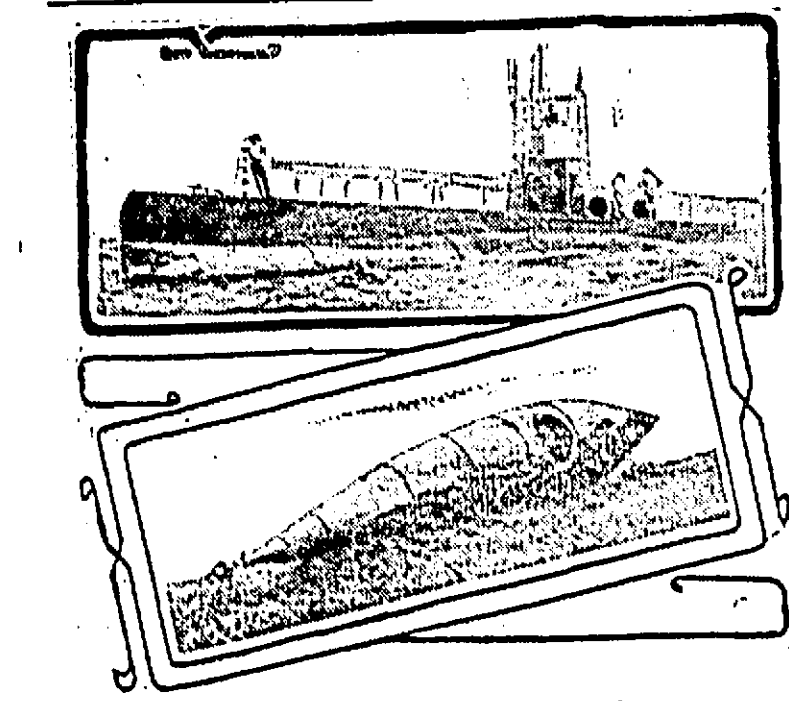

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
River Head, L. I., Sept. 15.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt opened his campaign for control of the New York state Republican machine at the Suffolk County Fair here this afternoon. A crowd of 15,000 people gathered to greet him, many carrying flags with the inscription "Teddy for 1912."

Arrested For Speeding.
Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived here this afternoon. Near Cold Springs Harbor, the Colonel's automobile ran into a speed trap and the party was held up by a motor cycle policeman after a lively four mile chase. Later, however, when the policeman learned that Roosevelt was one of the party, he allowed them to proceed.

William Rankin Of Summit, New Jersey, A Remarkable Centenarian —Uses Tobacco in Moderation.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Summit, N. J., Sept. 15.—"Use tobacco in moderation, only never let the habit enslave you," is the maxim suggested for those who aspire to longevity by William Rankin, who celebrated his 100th birthday at his home here today, surrounded by about fifty of his descendants and other relatives. Mr. Rankin was born in Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 15, 1810, and one of his earliest recollections is of the general illumination celebrating the declaration of peace after the War of 1812. He was graduated from Williams College in 1831, and is the oldest living alumnus of any American college. For many years he practiced law in Cincinnati and New York and for forty years has been treasurer of the Presbyterian Church. At 100 years of age he is enjoying excellent health and the use of all his faculties.

REPUBLICANS OF MONTANA GATHER

At Missoula for State Convention—Will Endorse President Taft and the Tariff.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Missoula, Mont., Sept. 15.—With nearly six-hundred delegates in attendance the Republican State Convention of Montana assembled in this city today for the nomination of candidates for Representative in Congress, Railroad Commissioner and Clerk of the Supreme Court. That President Taft and the tariff will be endorsed by the convention appears certain. With its great wool, lead and cattle industries, Montana is a protection state on general principles, and apparently insurmountable has made less headway here than in the neighboring States. The strength of the insurgent movement will be determined by the convention vote on the nomination for Congressman. Congressman Charles N. Pray, who is known as a "stand-patter," is a candidate for re-nomination in the outcome. By general consent the Convention will take no action in regard to the United States Senatorship.

MANUFACTURERS OF COTTON IN SESSION

Resumption Of Activity In Mills All Over The Country To Be Anticipated Early In October.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 15.—A majority of the one thousand members of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers were gathered in the large assembly hall of the hotel Wentworth this morning at the opening of the 89th meeting of the association. The cotton manufacturing sections of the South as well as the New England States were well represented. A greeting by Mayor Adams of Portsmouth and the address of the president, Franklin W. Hobbs of Brookline, Mass. were the principal features of the opening session. At the subsequent sessions, lasting over Friday and Saturday, many important papers on the cotton industry will be presented. The raising of cotton in California will be one of the most interesting subjects of discussion. Though no official action in the matter is to be taken by the convention, the prevailing opinion among the members assembled here is that there will be a general resumption of activity among the cotton mills all over the country early next month.

CALEB POWERS IN A RACE FOR CONGRESS

Kentuckian Convicted Of Complicity In Goebel Murder Seeks Don Edwards' Seat.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—One of the bitterest political battles Kentucky has seen in years is being fought out in the Eleventh congressional district of this State today, the prize being the Republican nomination for Congress. Representatives Don C. Edwards, who is a candidate for re-nomination has as his opponent in the primaries Caleb Powers who was several times tried and convicted of complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel and subsequently given his freedom by Governor Wilson. The campaign has been an extremely heated one.

MERCHANT HAS PROPER IDEA

Doesn't Like the Way Big City Stores Are Run and Tells Why.

The summer visitor in a small port town was amazed and amused at the assortment of merchandise displayed in the little store at the head of the wharf.

The showman was devoted to an assortment of candy at one end and a lot of cigars and tobacco at the other end, and no barrier between. Next to the showman stood a motor engine valued at several hundred dollars.

Thinking to please the proprietor, says the Youth's Companion, the visitor remarked that even the large department stores in Boston could not boast of such a collection.

"Well," he said, "I ain't apling these stores, I can tell you. I am to keep what my folks want. When a man wants an engine for his boat he wants it, and if the fish are running he can't wait to send way to Portland or Boston for it. He wants it when he does, then and there."

After a little pause he continued: "I don't like the way they do business in them big stores, anyway. Why, when you go into a store up to Boston the first thing you know somebody asks you what you want."

"Now, I never do anything like that. If a man comes into my place I pass the time of day and ask him to sit, and after he's sat and talked a while if he wants anything he'll tell me. I never pester a man to buy. Maybe he ain't come to buy; maybe he's come to talk."

Footgear Brought Success.

It was the sturdy sandals of the Teutonic tribes that enabled them to march across Europe to the walls of Rome, and we know that the footgear of an army is still a most important part of its equipment. Those whom the Romans called Scythians wore rough sheepskin boots and the Gauls were already noted for their wooden shoes.

SENATOR REVEALS SECRETS

New York Legislative Inquiry Committee is Told of Destruction of Accounts and Vouchers Belonging to Railway Association.

New York, Sept. 15.—Louis F. Goodsell, former state senator from Orange county, and H. S. Beardsley, secretary and treasurer of the Street Railway Association of the state of New York, both testified before the legislative committee investigating the activities of the Street Railway Association at Albany during the assembly sessions of 1908 and 1909, that they themselves burned their individual books, private accounts and vouchers, which were wanted by the committee to show that business relations existed between the two men. Louis F. Goodsell, former assemblyman from Orange county, had testified at a previous hearing of the committee that his books and accounts had been destroyed in a hotel fire.

Mentions Name of Roosevelt.

The cumulative effect of the testimony of Messrs. Goodsell and Beardsley produced a sensation. Mr. Goodsell caused another one when, in defending his bill granting sweeping privileges to the New York Transportation company, he declared that Colonel Roosevelt, then governor, had signed it.

There was a craning of necks when the name of C. H. Betts, member of the Republican state committee from Wayne county, was mentioned as one who had received $17,500 during 1908 from the railway association. "For information furnished the association." The nature of the information or whence it came was not disclosed. Mr. Betts was elected to head the Wayne county delegation to the coming Republican state convention. He is the only man now alive and in public life whose name has been brought into the present inquiry.

Mr. Goodsell was asked to throw light upon a credit of $2,000 placed with Ellingwood & Cunningham by President Rogers of the Street Railway Association in 1903, and testified that it had "probably" been for campaign purposes. The books of the Republican state committee might show, the witness "imagined."

Cannot Recall $5,000 Offer.

Mr. Goodsell was asked concerning a letter sent him by Ellingwood & Cunningham in 1903, advising him that if he visited the firm's offices he would be given $5,000 in cash. He professed ignorance of this $5,000 and could not recall having ever received it.

In justification of the destruction of his books, Beardsley said the annual reports of the railway association would show its income and disbursements.

Independent Democrats Decide to Support Hooper for Governor.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 15.—The independent Democrats of Tennessee endorsed the candidacy of Capt. Ben W. Hooper, Republican nominee for governor, and further cut loose from the regular Democratic wing by referring the latter's harmony resolution to the new independent state executive committee without discussion.

The possible break in the solid south extends only to this one office. There is a "gentlemen's agreement" between the independent Democrats and the Republicans that neither party will invade the other's "safe" legislative territory. This assures a Democratic legislature. The last Republican governor in Tennessee was Alvin Hawkins, in 1881-82.

NEW YORK HOP MERCHANT

Admits Big Bank Theft

Confesses Has Obtained $300,000 Wrongfully and Lost It in Wall Street in Three Years.

New York, Sept. 15.—After he had admitted that he dumped $300,000 of other people's money into Wall street speculation, Adolph Rothbarth, dealer in hops, with offices in London, Frankfurt and St. Petersburg, pleaded guilty in the Tombs court to a charge of grand larceny of $10,000 from the Mercantile National bank. The victims are his own brother's firm in Frankfurt, Germany, the Liberty National bank and the Mercantile National.

District Attorney Whitman said that Rothbarth's aggregate thefts in the last two years will foot up at least $100,000.

Rothbarth confessed that having lost every possible resource in Wall street speculation in the last three years, he had obtained about $300,000 from three prominent banking institutions of the city by means of false statements as to the financial condition of the hop-importing company of which he was only the American representative instead of a partner.

Of this amount it was shown he had managed to return about $200,000 with sums borrowed from his three brothers in Europe, whom he represented here. They having refused to furnish him further aid, the man had accepted the situation with phlegmatic fatalism and announced himself eager to receive the full penalty of the law. This would mean at least ten years' imprisonment.

The three banks involved by the confession of Rothbarth are the Mercantile National, Liberty National and National Park.

WITNESS IN CRIPPEN CASE SAYS SKILLED HAND MUTILATED BODY.

POINT FOR THE DEFENSE

Miss Lejewa, Is Near Collapse and Is Attended at Trial by a Wardress From London Prison—Dentist Appears as Cool as Ever.

London, Sept. 15.—Dr. Hawley II. Crippen secured a vital point in his trial for the murder of his wife when Prof. Augustus J. Popper, pathologist of the University of London, testified that he was unable to determine whether the portions of the body found in the cellar of the Illidrop-Crescent home were those of a man or woman.

Professor Popper declared, however, that the body, believed to be that of Dr. H. II. Crippen's wife, Bella Elmore, had been dismembered by a hand skilled in surgery and directed by a mind that possessed a real knowledge of anatomy.

After Doctor Popper left the stand the hearing was adjourned until Friday.

Crippen Calm as Ever.

Dr. Hawley II. Crippen, who is charged as the principal in the murder of his wife, Bella Elmore, the American actress, was apparently as cool as ever. He did not miss a word of testimony and eagerly whispered to his solicitor, Arthur Newton, whenever he thought he had detected a point in his favor.

On the other hand, Ethel Clara Lejewa, accused as an accessory after the fact, was and plainly in mental and physical distress. The police authorities had anticipated that the day would be a trying one for her, and accordingly she was attended for the first time in court by a wardress, who sat close to her throughout the proceedings.

No Bones With the Body.

Professor Popper was the first witness called by the prosecution. At considerable length he described the examination he made of the parts and set forth his conclusions. The witness said that he had identified pieces of flesh as belonging to various sections of the body, except the head, hands, forearms, feet and legs below the knees. He could say that the members found were undoubtedly from a human body. No bones were discovered.

Finds Scars on the Flesh.

The whole viscera were present intact and the only wound was a cut in the upper part of the windpipe. Other parts were left undisturbed by the one who did the cutting and the way in which the parts had been separated convinced the expert that whoever was guilty of the mutilation did his work with an exactness born of familiarity with the human body.

Professor Popper said that the hair discovered included a short strand of fair size, wrapped in a handkerchief of fair size, commonly used by men. The witness identified particularly a piece of flesh six by seven inches in size as coming from the abdominal wall and which bore a scar which, in his opinion, was undoubtedly left by a wound from an operation.

DR. CLEMINSON IS SENTENCED.

Physician is Given Life Term for Killing His Wife.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Dr. Halldane Cleminson's hope for freedom now lies with the supreme court.

The physician, who was convicted of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Nora Jane Cleminson, appeared before Judge McShure in the criminal court and heard the final sentence of life imprisonment imposed upon him. Standing by Deputy Sheriff Holden, the physician, his face flushed and his lips twitching, stood before the court, unable to make any comment upon the court's decision. His lips moved, but he spoke no word.

THE ETERNAL FEMININE

Suddenly the front screen door opened with a crash and shut with a bang. Above these sounds rose a hollow like that of a wounded bull.

"Mother, mother, mother!" The hollow resolved itself into words as the bellower stumbled up the stairs, tumbling down at every other step and had to pick himself up again before he could proceed.

Mrs. Burton rushed from her room and half-way down the stairs. There she sat upon a step and pulled Jimmy into her lap, anxiously examining the round face and feeling the soft fat body for possible broken bones.

"Oh, my darling!" she cried. "Toll mother what's the matter, my precious. Did you fall? Where are you hurt?"

Renewed bellowing threatened to raise the roof. "I'm not hurt—anywhere—outside. It's—it's my feelings!" The last words were nearly lost in a yell, which tapered down eventually into a mournful sniffle. "She said—she said—"

"What did she say, dear?" urged Mrs. Burton. "And who said it?"

"She said—she said—it was Helen!" "She said—she said—it was Helen!" mother. She said—oh mother—she said she didn't—she didn't love me any more."

Mrs. Burton buried her head on her son's heaving shoulder and shook with suppressed laughter. Then she rose to her feet and took his hot, damp little hand in hers and led him up to her own room, where she sat down in her big rocker and cuddled him in her lap, rocking back and forth and patting the forlorn, crumpled little back. Presently the little boy sat up on her knees and she wiped the tears from the red cheeks.

"She didn't mean it, precious," she said, trying to console him.

"Oh, yes, mother, she did," he insisted, choking with another sob. "She said it and I know she meant it."

"Did she say why she didn't love you?" Maybe you did something to hurt her feelings."

A little gasp followed quickly on the heels of a small, pathetic sob.

"No, mother, I didn't, not a thing. I was just as nice to her as I could be. We were playing house and we had just had supper. Helen's mother gave us some cookies and we had some little bread and butter slices and I let her have half of one of my cookies, and it was lovely, and then right in the middle she jumped up and said she wouldn't play, and when I asked her why she said she didn't love me any more. Oh, mother, mother, you don't know how it hurt my feelings!"

"Perhaps Helen was tired, Jimmy, dear," suggested his mother. "After lunch you can go and ask her to come over here and play and—"

"Oh, no, not!" wailed the tearful voice. "She said she didn't want me over to come again. She said she was sick and tired of me. She said she didn't ever want to see me again. Oh, mother, how could she say that, when I love her so? Why, all summer I've gone into the deepest grass every day where the snakes are, to get flowers for her. I've done everything to make her love me and she always told me she did, and now she says she doesn't love me!"

"Poor little man!" said his mother. "You have yet to learn that the object of love is never the most successful one. But I don't think she really meant it."

"Well, then, I wish—I wish she had not said it," Jimmy quavered, "because I love her and I want her to love me."

Directly after luncheon the doorbell rang. When Mrs. Burton opened the door she found a crisp little dame with a huge hair bow, an extremely clean, fluffy white dress, and a general atmosphere of sanctimoniousness enveloping her.

"To Jimmy at home?" she inquired politely. "I wanted to ask him if he didn't want to come over to my house and play. I guess he didn't have a very nice time this morning. He came home right in the middle of the tea party we were having."

Helen sat down primly upon the front steps and waited while Jimmy underwent the inevitable scrubbing process. When he was thoroughly polished and ready to start, he threw his arms around his mother's neck and whispered:

"I guess Helen does love me after all, mother, or she wouldn't want me to come and play with her, but aren't girls funny?"

"Yes, ma'am," said the seedy wanderer, "I used to be an actor."

"And you had to give it up?"

"I did. I wasn't what you would call a success."

"You failed to achieve other fame or wealth?"

"To the best of my recollection I did, ma'am. I was a pretty bum actor."

"You did what they call the thinking parts, I suppose?"

"Lady," said the seedy pilgrim, frowning gloomily. "If I had ever done any real thinking I never should have gone on the stage. May I ask you for another cup of coffee?"—Chicago Tribune.

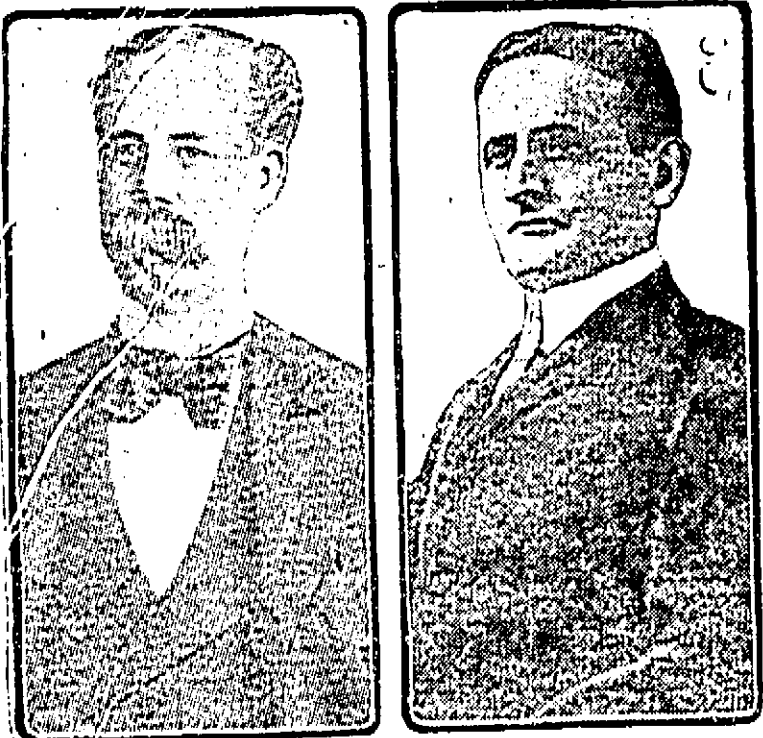

A Contingency.

"Are the running expenses of an automobile very much?"

"That depends on whether the bicycle cop catches you."

It Will Always Keep Going.

Give a lie a start of a minute and a half and you can never catch it.

Sir Thomas Lipton at left, Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston at right.

Boston, Mass.—The Harvard aviation meet is to be honored by the presence of Sir Thomas Lipton, who comes as the special guest of Mayor Thomas Fitzgerald of Boston. While Sir Thomas has never as yet tackled the flying machine as a personal hobby, it is well known that his interest in aviation is second only to his interest in sailing. He is an enthusiastic follower of the new sport and may yet challenge America with the Shamrock IV., to sail the air instead of the seas.

Painless Dentistry

People almost universally turn to me after I have extracted a tooth for them, and say:

"Why, Dr. Richards, that is the easiest tooth I ever had extracted."

I am getting patients from long distances for no other reason than that I actually do take out teeth without hurting a particle.

In view of the fast approaching cold weather,

Wouldn't it be advisable for you to avoid trouble and get rid now of those awful teeth of yours?

MANUFACTURERS ARE VERY ENTHUSIASTIC

Fortcoming "Made in Janesville" Exhibit Has Awakened Widespread Interest.

Enthusiasm is the keynote of the work for the great display this city is to have under the name of the "Made in Janesville" week. Practically every manufacturer visited to date has enthusiastically offered to make a display of the goods he makes. In the window of some retail store.

That this display will be worth going miles to see is evident at this early date, for it is already apparent that the local manufacturers will try to outdo each other in the attractiveness and oddity of their displays.

MISSIONARY SPOKE AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Isabelle Crawford Gave Deeply Interesting Address This Afternoon and Will Speak Again This Evening.

Ladies of the Baptist church of this city, as well as those of the Beloit, Afton and Union churches, who were invited to attend, were given a rare treat this afternoon when Miss Isabelle Crawford, formerly a resident of this state but for the past ten years a missionary among the Klam Indians of Oklahoma and the Moguls of Arizona, told of her work. Miss Crawford's home is at Saddle Mountain, Okla. She is a fluent speaker, deeply interested in her work and her address created a distinct impression upon her listeners. She will speak again this evening at 7:30 at the Baptist church. The meetings are open to all those interested in this work.

VINEY FUNERAL WAS HELD THIS MORNING

Impressive Services for Old Soldier Were Held at St. Patrick's Church at Nine.

Impressive funeral services over the remains of the late George T. Viney, an old resident of Janesville and a veteran of the Civil war, were held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Rev. Dean E. E. Reilly officiating. Many relatives and friends were gathered to pay their last respects and members of W. H. Sargent Post, G. A. R., attended the services in a body. Many beautiful flowers showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. James L. John, J. George A. Charles S. Lawrence L. and Francis A. Cronin were the pall-bearers, and three members of the G. A. R. and three from the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, of which orders the deceased was a member, acted as the honorary pall-bearers. They were: L. H. Lee, Frank Lee, and Walter Briggs from the G. A. R. and Will Phiberty, Frank Boyer, and Matthew Roberts of the Catholic Knights. Services at the grave were conducted by the G. A. R. The remains were placed at rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Robert Jessup.
Robert, the six weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jessup, died this morning at 8:15 o'clock at the home of his parents, 418 South Bluff street, of spinal trouble. The funeral was held at three o'clock this afternoon from the home and the body was interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

Puffs

"Professional types" are fast disappearing and the meek and lowly brother who shares your seat on the car or breaks bread at the same table at the hotel may or may not be an insurance agent, doctor, lawyer, clergyman, "instrument," "only manipulator," "lighter," "white wings of power," magazine writer, horse-shoer, banker, or Sunday school superintendent. It was with no little astonishment, however, that a certain Janesville attorney who died at the Carlton in Edgerton last Sunday received assurances from the benevolent clerk at the desk that "his money was no good," arrangements having been made to "serve all the ministers at the Methodist conference without charge."

Who? Gentle reader you have just one guess.

RECORD SMASHED BY TODAY'S ATTENDANCE

Two Hundred and Twenty-five From Janesville in Milwaukee Today at Fair.

Janesville's delegation at the state fair today exceeds all previous records. It is estimated that there are nearly 225 from this city in Milwaukee today. A small portion of these left last night but the majority departed this morning. Those who visited the big show yesterday state that it is better than ever before and many are greatly impressed and delighted with the aeroplane flights.

MODERN DIANA SUCCEUMS TO BLANDISHMENTS OF CUPID.
Miss Eleanor Sears and one of her suitors, Paul J. Rainey.

Newport, R. I.—Miss Eleanor R. Sears, the society girl who plays polo and tennis and rides to the hounds, shoots, hunts, boxes, fences and goes in for divers and sundry other sports with a vim and dash that have won for her a world-wide reputation, has two rivals for her hand, Paul J. Rainey, a Yale hunter, and Harold S. Vanderbilt, son of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. It was rumored today that she has made her choice, but she declined absolutely to discuss the matter.

The rivalry between the shooter of polar bears and young Mr. Vanderbilt is said to have reached a stage where they are going to be put to the test not unlike those to which the ladies fair of the middle ages subjected their knights. In other words, Miss Sears is going to make the lucky suitor "go some" to get her.

Rainey was sent almost of the North Pole to get her some bear pelts. While young Rainey was away, amid the aurora borealis, H. S. Vanderbilt had his turn at "going some" and by rapid strides became an athlete like unto which none has yet appeared in his distinguished family.

To follow the footsteps of the light of his life Harold had to play tennis in the broiling sun, golf with the soles of his feet cracked and try out an occasional bucking broncho.

The tests are not over. Everyone is guessing as to who will succeed.

CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN

or at least they have everything to do with his appearance. No man can afford to be otherwise than well dressed. A perfect fitting suit can only be obtained by having it built to fit you. Ask yourself if this can be done by a tailor or a number of tailors, a hundred or a thousand miles away. Yet when you buy a hand-me-down suit you get a suit that was intended for the first man that would come along and buy it. You get a suit without that individuality that marks the well dressed man. Our suits are all different because they are all built for different men. Yet each one shows that same skill and care in the making. The new fall woollens are here, $25 to $50.

NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

Four of the leaders of the American Purity Federation who will tour the west in the campaign, D. S. Steadwell, president of the American Purity Federation, who originated and has carried to successful completion the western trip; Ernest A. Bell, D. D., of Chicago, chairman of the white slave traffic committee in the American Purity Federation; Mrs. Emma Drake, M. clubs, temperance societies, reform organizations, and in some instances the chambers of commerce, are co-operating to insure success to the conventions in a local way, and are inviting delegates from all surrounding territory.

The itinerary will include the following cities at which one and two day stops will be made: Minneapolis,

(By Special Correspondent.)
La Crosse, Wis.—The American Purity Federation with headquarters at La Crosse, Wis., announces through its president, Mr. D. S. Steadwell, the completion of all arrangements for a most notable tour in the interests of the fight against the white slave trade, and the general suppression of vice.

Twenty of the leading national reformers are to make a tour of more than seven thousand miles, holding 15 conventions under the direction of the American Purity Federation.

The idea was conceived by Mr. Steadwell that instead of holding a large national convention in one city this year, it would be well to visit different places with a company of the best known national workers and thus bring half the country into touch with the actual movement against these greater evils. This tour is considered to be the greatest thing ever undertaken along the line of purity work.

The start will be made from Chicago on September 29 and among the leading workers who will accompany the party are the following: Ernest A. Bell and Arthur Hurrage Farwell of Chicago; Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, Toronto, Canada; Mrs. Della Thompson Lutes, Coopersburg, N. Y.; Mrs. E. M. Whittemore, New York City; Mr. James H. Patten, Washington, D. C.; Mr. John H. Hammond and Mrs. A. B. Alms, Des Moines, Ia.; Prof. T. W. Shannon, St. Louis; Dr. Emma F. A. Drake, Denver; Rabbi Tobias Tobias Schanfarber, Chicago; Mr. W. L. Clark, Leamington, Ontario; Mr. J. Frank Chase, Boston; Owen O. Ward, Springfield, Pa.

The arrangements for the conventions in the various cities are being made by the most representative religious and reform workers. The church federations, ministerial associations, young men's and young women's Christian associations, women's

The Safety Valve

"The field for frank and innocent expression of emotion on the part of people has narrowed.....The constant suppression of the emotions and natural instinct produces a sort of mental auto-intoxication which cannot but predispose to mental derangement, while their free expression within the limits of temperance favors what some have termed a psychic catharsis....Let us learn to live....I believe, with Professor Munsterberg, that alcohol in small quantities constitutes comparatively harmless antidote to the excitement and strain of our civilization and frictions and pressure of our economic system."
—Ralph Reed, M. D., in The Lancet and Clinic.

Psychologists have much to say about the need of an "outlet" for the emotions.

In the exercise of our callings we are constantly suppressing ourselves—for business reasons. We cannot be ourselves.

The value of sociability consists in the opportunity to let go the reins by which we hold ourselves in check.

It is the safety valve for our emotions. If forever suppressed they would cause us to eat out our hearts, to become sneaks and hypocrites, lead to disorder of body and mind, or to break out in ill temper, passion, vice or even crime.

It will not do to be forever sitting on the safety valve.

Nothing is so restful to a tired body, so grateful a relief to an overworked mind, as cheering to a soul escaping from the stress of self-seeking effort, as a dinner in genial company "with a glass on the table" and merry laughter going 'round.

And to fill the glass the best is Golden Crown Beer.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

DO YOU know who your next door neighbors are? Have you ever done any little acts of kindness to them? How perfectly absurd that must sound to my country and suburban readers. About like asking, "Do you eat three meals a day and go to bed at night?"

But you see those queries aren't meant for them at all, but for those unfortunate folk, the city dwellers, whose lack of neighbors always makes me think of the old couple—

"Water, water everywhere; nor any drop to drink." The absolutely heartless way in which folks in the city live for years, jammed together side by side, or more likely over and under each other, without taking the slightest interest in the sorrow and happiness that transpire so close to their own, is perfectly extraordinary to me.

I was recently visiting a woman who lives in a huge apartment house in the city. She has an apartment on the third floor. We were climbing the stairs one day when I noticed a black streamer on the door of one of the apartments in the first floor.

"My dear, look," I cried, "someone is dead. Why, you didn't tell me anyone was ill."

"I didn't know it," answered my friend. Later I found by inquiry that the corpse was for the mother of the family, that she had been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever and that she had three small children.

As far as I could find out, none of the other tenants had in any way interested themselves in their neighbor's trouble. Two other families in the same apartment, with whom my friend was acquainted, were as surprised as she at the death in their midst.

Now I know that if that family had lived in the town where I live, or any town like it, all the neighbors for at least half a mile around would have known of its trouble, and would have tried to do something to help out.

They would have carried the delicacies of their table and garden to the sick mother. They would have helped and taken care of the children, with a sympathy and interest that would have helped to make him feel less lonely.

And chief among those to try to do something kind, I know my city friend would have been, for she is a very kind and generous woman. It is only that the city's cruel and thoughtless habit of unneighborliness has her, like all the rest, in its grip.

I know just exactly what the city dweller is going to answer to this arraignment.

She is going to say that in the city where people are constantly coming and going, and where there are so very many, it is impossible to make friends of all the people about you.

Granted, city dweller.

I'll go a step further and even admit that it would be undesirable, even if it were possible, to make FRIENDS of all the people about you. I don't believe in mere prophetic FRIENDSHIPS any more than you do.

But you can take a little interest in them, know a little about them, be ready to help them in trouble, treat them as if you were living among human beings like yourself and not among creatures of an alien race, can't you?

You can make neighbors of them, can't you?

And if you want a definition of that word or any further suggestion as to how to be neighborly, I refer you to a Source so great I need not name it, and to a definition that you have probably already read a dozen times.

GIRL OF EIGHT WHO SPEAKS NINE LANGUAGES AND WRITES VERSE. WINIFRED SACKVILLE STONER.

San Francisco.—William Jones Sids, the Harvard boy wonder, has a rival among the fair sex in the person of little eight-year-old Winifred Stoner. Already the child is a linguist of unusual ability, being able to speak nine languages. At the age of 5 years she wrote a hymn which would have done credit to older and more experienced writers. Her mother is the daughter of the late Lord Sackville West, former ambassador from England, and her father is Colonel J. B. Stoner of the Marine hospital service.

Mrs. Stoner pays the secret of her child's phenomenal advancement entirely to the method of her education. Instead of nursery rhymes she was taught Latin and other languages in a way which appealed to her and did not detract from her being a perfectly normal girl.

In center, Marguerite Clark, who will be seen this year in "The Blue Bird," to be presented at the New theater. This fantastic and spectacular play by Maeterlinck is highly praised by critics and Miss Clark as the best of her best. Upper left, Jane Gayer, now appearing as Lorana de Castro in "Love Among the Lions" at the Garrick theatre. In this Miss Gayer succeeds in making herself a farcical heroine. With her appears A. B. Matthews, a new comedian to the American stage. He comes to the United States from London for the first time. Upper right, Francis Carnwright, who last season played the title role in "The Dollar Princess" in London. Her New York production is to be staged this fall. Lower left, Clara Lipman, now appearing in a new play called "The Marriage of a Star," in which she has won much praise. Lower right, May Buckley, who is to present this season "The Little Damsel."

HONESTY OF THOUGHT.

[By MARY RUSSELL.] To know one's self is to argue almost divine powers. This ability to look behind motives and be honest with our selves is rare and wonderful.

It is like a woman who knows she is growing old and yet resolutely refuses to look deeply into her own eyes in the small hand mirror and acknowledge the prints made by Old Father Time.

One charming woman who was quite as beautiful as she had ever been, though with a difference, said to me:

"If you want to know how really vain you are and how impossible it is to be what you flatter yourself you are—really young after 35—just take a small hand mirror and go to the window. Let the full sunlight fall upon your face, and then you will have a decided revelation. It is the freshness of you that will be missing, and every ugly thought you ever had, and every cross moment will be plain to your eyes."

Youthful beauty is not all that is worth while. Every age has its charm and if the printing made by that arch enemy—Time—is wise and gentle and sweet the charm will be just as great at one age as another.

It might not be a bad habit to form—that of taking stock of thoughts and feelings by the aid of the small mirror and the sun's rays.

The character that goes deep may not show on the surface all that it means, but it will tell many tales of the inner man or woman. So others might make use of this form of beauty culture, and institute it weekly for children.

If you have a certain fault and know you have it, you are wronging yourself and others by not setting yourself to eradicate it. One who has the sense of humor has a greater chance for a long and happy life than one who takes every thing seriously.

If you are able to look yourself in the face after making a blunder and say with a grin, "Well, I am surprised at you for being such an idiot. Don't ever do such a thing again," then you are on the road to improvement.

The trouble with most of us is that we cannot be honest with ourselves. We will forgive ourselves faults that are unforgivable in others. We will gloss over small acts that would call forth sharp censure if the actor were a child.

Think no evil of others—that is one of the first texts that will be of value to everyone.

Learn to understand yourself, even to your real motives—that is another text that will save many a heart ache. Believe in yourself and your ability to make good in anything you attempt—that is one of the most important of all.

Do not be constantly dissecting your emotions. The small acts that need a magnifying glass are not worth worrying over. They are not habits.

The real deeds of unkindness, or worse, will make you know they have been committed if you are honest with yourself. They will make you think—and in your thinking do not make excuses, but resolutions! Others will forgive you but you must not forgive till you have straightened out your accounts with your higher, nobler self. To deny the debt is to make yourself more dishonest. You have not only stolen yourself, but you have lied to yourself as well.

Be honest and just with your inner self and be generous to all others—for you may not be able to understand the struggle that is going on in another's heart.

ALBUMEN SUGAR AND MINERAL ELEMENTS IN EGGS.

Dates are an excellent food if clean and fresh, which they very rarely are in our markets, because it is not demanded. They are carelessly handled in preparing for shipment and usually exposed to contamination and often handled in a most careless manner in the stores. The consumer can control these conditions by buying only products that give evidence of proper care. Spoiled dates are injurious, causing fermentation of foods eaten with them. Arabs often live exclusively on dates for long periods, demonstrating their endurance by running with Arab horses or shovelling coal on Red Sea vessels in extreme heat. Dates contain enough albumen for a mature person, with all the needed mineral elements and ample heat and energy food in the form of sugar easily digested. But they should not be mixed with heavy foods like potatoes, beans, or even bread. They combine well with rice, bananas, figs (which should be fresh), or toast.

DRESSY FROCK FOR YOUNG GIRL.

The material here employed is pale pink crepon, silk velvet, with white tulle, in tulle fashion, finished with a deep band of white lace. Yoke is of lace and trimming bands of the silk. Buttons and barrels are pink silk buttons.

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR.

Pale gray chiffon voile, with an invisible check, was used for a good-looking frock, such as we illustrate above. The rather full skirt was caught under a band of black velvet just above knees, and put on in tulle effect. Bodice in surplice fashion has a shawl collar and sleeve bands of velvet, and the neck is filled in with a chemise and stock of tucked white silk mousseline and lace. A plaited frill of mousseline falls over the velvet collar on right side.

Too Great a Risk.

A certain gentleman who resides in Adair county, Kentucky, stopped with one of his friends for the night, and after his horse had been cared for at the barn, and fed, the following conversation occurred between the two old neighbors:

"Sam, have you got anything to drink?"

"Yes, Bill. I have about the quantity sufficient for us both to have a good drink in the morning."

"Sam," said Bill, "The older you get the less sense you have. Just suppose now the house burns down to night, and we have barely enough time to save ourselves and the drinks perish. I want to tell you right now, Sam, that we are not going to run any such risk. We will take the drinks tonight."

BEAUTIFUL CITY OF GOLDEN WEST

COLORADO SPRINGS DESCRIBED BY WILL TIERNAN.

"GARDEN OF THE GODS"

Park Adjacent to the City and Many of Wondrous Formations of Nature Included in Description.

Colorado Springs, located in the center of a number of natural wonders, a city of beautiful streets and handsome homes, and the wonders of the Garden of the Gods, situated nearby, are described by Will Tiernan, in a recent letter to the Gazette. The letter follows:

Wells, Idaho, Sept. 7, 1910.—Seven miles south of Denver, at an altitude of 5,578 feet, with Pike's Peak towering on one side, the Garden of the Gods lies near at a slightly different angle, and the beautiful Cheyenne Canon within easy reach, stands the city of Colorado Springs. It is essentially a health and pleasure resort—a city of tourists, of high prices, of the hotels, of the mountains. Its streets are wide and beautiful. On Cascade Avenue in the short distance of one and one-half miles, stand the dwellings of seventeen millionaires. As one steps out of the Union depot immediately before him rises the Antlers, a palatial hotel fronted by a small but beautiful park. It is the leading hotel of Colorado Springs, but there are many other fine hotels. During the summer the inhabitants follow their pursues by extending money from the gulch to the tourist. During the winter the city is comparatively quiet.

Two miles distant, at the base of Pike's Peak, lies the little village of Manitou. From here excursions start up Pike's Peak and to the Garden of the Gods. During the winter this town is practically deserted.

The Garden of the Gods is an expanse of several hundred acres filled with strange rock formations. Here nature has turned sculptor and carved out of huge rocks fantastic shapes and forms. The rocks are almost uniformly red. There is the Mushroom Rock, the Balanced Rock, a huge red rock balanced on another rock, on a remarkably small base—and directly across from this, the Steamboat Rock, which one may mount and, by aid of a telescope, let the eye sweep over the surrounding country and to the summit of Pike's Peak. A large stone whose surface resembles a mammoth footprint is aptly named the Chicago Woman's Footprint. Then there are the Shamese Twins, Whitecross Head, Punch and Judy, etc., etc. It would take a long time to name all these wonderful rocks, but three more are worthy of special mention. Two huge red rocks thrust themselves abruptly upward to a great height to form what is called the Gateway, through which a carriage drive runs. On the top of one are two rock formations that resemble camels with their mouths touching. These are called the Kissing Camels. On the side of the other rock is a clearly defined likeness of a lion's head traced by nature. Further on is the Major Domo. This red, cylindrical rock towers to a height of 125 feet with an average diameter of about ten feet. Viewed from the top of Pike's Peak these red rocks resemble flowers, hence the name, "Garden of the Gods."

In the Gardens of the Gods, formerly the residence of General Palmer and now owned by his heirs, General Palmer was a veteran of the Civil war, the builder of the Union Pacific from Kansas City to Denver, and the founder of Colorado Springs. In the Garden of the Gods he built a five story mansion, surrounded by a dome and surrounded by beautiful drives, trees, and shrubbery. He also built cottages for his employees and a tiny log school house for their children. All of these buildings are still standing.

The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad runs south from Colorado Springs to Pueblo and from thence west through the wildest and grandest of mountain scenery. The Royal Gorge presents spectacles approaching the sublime. The rocky walls on either side rise to a sheer height of hundreds of feet, at times so near that one can almost touch them from the car windows, and at times with crests literally overhanging the train. No small feat for telegraph posts here, so small iron rods are jammed into the rock and the wires strung on them. A little mountain stream dashes along the track and where it fills the gorge the train crosses it on a hanging bridge, suspended by cables and rods from the rock walls. The two engines—for this is up grade work—twisting and sharply curving through the gorge. Every few minutes the whistle shrieks and the sound is reinforced and prolonged through the mountains. One cannot fully appreciate a locomotive whistle until one hears it in a mountain gorge. Late at night I awoke and thrust my head out of the car window. We were passing through another and a wider gorge. On one side of us a stream was plunging madly down its course. The train was crawling snake-like among the mountains, the engines pulling laboriously and emitting shrieks that echoed and rebounded through the night. A full moon beamed down upon the mountain peaks. To a person who loves the wild and grand in nature, here was a picture from which nothing was lacking. Occasionally the train passed through tunnels and the picture was obscured, only to burst forth again at the end of the dark passage. At Tenmile Pass the track reaches an altitude of 9,210 feet, from there it winds down across the hills and desolate "badland" deserts and badlands of Utah through the Wasatch Mountains to Salt Lake City. GREEN COUNTY FAIR OPENED AT MONROE

Aeroplane Flight Was the Great Attraction at Opening Day at Fair Grounds Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., Sept. 15.—The Green county fair opened at the fair grounds today with a splendid attendance. The exhibits and entries in every department exceeded any of previous years and the fair bids fair to be the greatest in the history of the county. The big free attraction was the biplane flight by Capt. W. A. Mattery, expert Chicago aviator. This French machine is the only one which has ever made a flight in Wisconsin and is attracting spectators from many miles away. The captain has stated while here that this is the last county fair he will make with his machine because of the many obstacles to be met with in making a descent. He steers the machine with his hands and balances the wings with his feet. The machine is driven by a four-cylinder, four-cycle, water-cooled, 60-horse power, gasoline engine with auxiliary ports and can be hoisted two miles.

Music for the day was furnished by the New Chorus and Orchestral bands. A baseball game between the colored Chicago Union Giants and Monroe took place at 1 o'clock. At 1 o'clock the race program started with a 2:15 pace, stake $600; a 2:35 pace, stake $400; and 2:35 trot, stake $400. Motorcycle races were given immediately following the horse races. Stearns-Clark.

A wedding of note took place here yesterday when Miss Maud Stearns of this city and Mr. Earl L. Clark of Grinnell, Iowa, were married at the home of the bride's father, G. O. Stearns. Losses predominated in the decorations and the ceremony, performed by Rev. W. H. Hartman, was simple but impressive. An elaborate course wedding breakfast followed the celebration of the nuptials and the bride and groom then departed for Grinnell, where the latter is engaged in business. Mrs. Clark is a pianist of ability and for several years has been an instructor of music at Hampton, Iowa.

Shower for Bride-to-Be. Miss Florence Trickle, whose coming marriage to Mr. Jay Brewer will be one of the society events of the future, was showered by the members of the T. H. G. club of which she is a member, at the home of Bert Steinhilber. The "shower" was followed by a spread at which several couples were held for tea. Mrs. Ansel Groshong, a club member, was here for the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kohl and Miss Emma Kohl have returned from Milwaukee where they attended the annual convention of the German press of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Rudolph Osterlund and daughter of Chicago are here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Antman.

Johnnie White of Mason City is here on a visit to relatives and to attend the fair.

Miss Grace Myers has returned from a several days' stay in Lena.

SEE A GREAT FUTURE FOR BELLE FOURCHE

Government Engineers Will Probably Urge Congress to Make Additional Appropriations.

It is said that the Board of United States Engineers that recently visited the government irrigation project at Belle Fourche, South Dakota, is apparently very much interested in the advantages which the project offers, and it is believed that they will recommend to congress additional expenditures for this development work.

The cost figures for the Belle Fourche project are among the lowest the government among agencies has been able to secure. Over two thousand acres of land have been reclaimed, and the Chicago & North-Western railway has opened an extension of its Black Hills line from Belle Fourche to the government town site at Newell.

Settlers are taking the farm as soon as they are placed over the ditch, and the Belle Fourche Valley, which has heretofore been strictly a cattle range country, promises to become densely populated at an early date, and a region with splendid crops. Belle Fourche is nearer the eastern markets than many of the other government projects. The C. & N. W. Ry. maintains two direct lines to Chicago and the east.

The party consists of Brigadier General Marshall, retired, who was until recently at the head of the United States engineers, Col. Hille, Col. Longitt, Major Harris, Major Katz, Major Burgess, Mr. F. H. Nowell, director of the reclamation service, and Mr. E. F. Walter, reclamation service engineer who was in direct charge of the work being done by the government at Belle Fourche.

Janesville people have a peculiar interest in this project owing to the fact that Hayes Brothers & Peters, a local contracting firm, have been building the great dam, Michael Hayes, who

LOCAL FIRM SUES MEMBERS OF BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

Hilton & Sedler, Architects, Sue For $225 For Drawing Plans For Buildings.

Hilton & Sedler, architects, of this city, are the plaintiffs in a suit which will be tried in the circuit court in this city, in which fourteen members of the state board of agriculture are named as the defendants. The amount sued for is $225, for the drawing of plans for buildings at the state fair grounds. Attorney Charles Pierce, who represents the Janesville firm, was in Milwaukee yesterday and served the papers in the suit.

WILL RECOMMEND USE OF A CHEAPER GRADE OF ASPHALT

Street Assessment Committee Discussed Asphalt-Macadam Pavement For Jackson St.

The proposition of improving Jackson street with asphalt macadam pavement was discussed by the street assessment committee of the common council at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. The discussion being concerning the quality of asphalt to be used. A. E. Rutledge of Rockford, who has been given the contract for the work offered to put down on the St. a grade of asphalt known as pioneer for 50 per cent less than would cost for the Sarcos. As the Pioneer grade was thought to be as good as the Sarcos and a saving of four or five hundred dollars to the city could be effected, it was decided to recommend the use of the Pioneer asphalt.

NEXT WORLD-WIDE T. B. C. CONFERENCE

Will Be Held in Rome in September, 1911—American Delegates to Carry Film Report.

Official announcement of the Seventh International Congress on Tuberculosis was made today from the American headquarters by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The congress will be held in Rome in September 24th to 30th. This gathering which meets every three years, and was last held in Washington, D. C. in 1908, will be under the direct patronage of the king and queen of Italy. The secretary-general is Professor Vittorio Azeoli, and the President Professor Guido Baccelli.

It is expected that an American committee of one hundred will be appointed as the official body representing the United States. Estimating on the present rate of increase, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis announces that the American committee will be able to give a most flattering report to the congress. They will be able to announce that the number of tuberculosis agencies in this country has tripled in the three years since the last international congress, and that more than twice as much money is being spent in the fight against consumption by private societies and institutions, and also that the appropriations for tuberculosis work by federal, state, municipal, and county authorities have quadrupled.

The congress at Rome will be in three sections, that on etiology and causes of tuberculosis; on pathology and therapeutics; both medical and surgical; and on the social defense against tuberculosis. The names of the presidents of these sections will be announced in the near future.

TRAINS DELAYED BY WRECK LAST NIGHT

Night Vestibuled Trains on North-Western Five Hours Late, Taking Roundabout Route To City.

Trains 511, Duluth limited, 505, St. Paul limited, 503 South Dakota Train, 515, St. Paul mail and express, and 509 St. Paul limited, on the North-Western road, due to arrive here at 8:50, 9:25, 11:05, 12:05, and 12:25 respectively, were delayed five hours last night because of a wreck at Des Plaines, a station just outside Chicago. A freight train jumped the track, tearing up the north and south-bound main lines, and the passenger trains had to be sent around by way of Rock Island to Crystal Lake, and from Crystal Lake they came on through to Janesville. The principal inconvenience caused by the delay was to Pacific Coast passengers who missed train connections at St. Paul.

DICKINSON-RIGHTOR NUPTIALS AT NOON

Details of Ceremony Performed at Campbell Home on Milton Avenue Yesterday.

Mrs. Jennie M. Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, and Elmer Rightor of Rockford, Ill., were wedded at the home of the bride's parents on Milton avenue at high noon yesterday. The service was read by a canopy of foliage and flowers by Dr. David Beaton. A color scheme of green and white had been artistically carried out in the parlor. The drawing room was in yellow and green and pink roses and green vines were effectively used in the decoration of the dining room where an elaborate four course wedding repast was served under the direction of Mrs. Rowman at the conclusion of the informal reception which followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rightor departed in the afternoon for an extended tour of the south and west. They will visit St. Louis, New Orleans, El Paso, Mexico, Denver, and Kansas City before taking up their abode on Stratford avenue in Rockford.

Man's Peculiar Ways.

A GOOD COUGH CURE.

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Fleming, our Grandfather, had a remedy called Badger Cough Balsam, which he made direct from the roots, bark and barks of wild cherry, bloodroot, lobelia, white pine bark. Thereby obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call Badger Cough Balsam. It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchial or lung trouble, healing and soothing to the irritated throat and lungs, it cures by assisting to expel the phlegm from the lungs, not by dosing the system with morphine and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, deadening the nervous system, stupefying the lungs into retaining the mucous, thereby bringing on possible pneumonia and a pleurisy. GOOD COMPANY IN "ST. ELMO" PLAY

Fair-sized Audience Pleased With Dramatic Production of Augusta Evans Wilson's Novel.

Grace Hayward's dramatization of Augusta Evans Wilson's well known novel, "St. Elmo," as presented by the George Amusement company, pleased a fair-sized audience at the Myers Theatre last evening. The theme of the play, the reformation of a man whose vision of the beautiful things in life has been blinded by an early love affair and who seeks revenge in the same manner as his love was betrayed, is one that has made a strong appeal with those who have read the book, or seen the drama. It was competently handled by a good cast last night.

HADLEY WINS ON PLATFORM.

Republicans of Missouri Adopt Resolutions Leaning Toward Insurgency.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 15.—The Republican party of Missouri adopted a platform that has a leaning toward insurgent ideas. The action was taken after a contest that was one of the most bitter which has ever arisen in a Republican convention in the state. The fight was over the endorsement of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and the mentioning of former President Roosevelt. Governor H. H. Hadley insisted that the former president be mentioned as the man who established the policy of conservation.

In return for this the names of Representative Payne and Senator Aldrich were written in the tariff plank.

The platform was adopted by delegates representing every district in the state.

The Democrats had a similar platform convention and denounced the tariff and the national administration.

MURPHY LEADS IN NEW JERSEY.

Contest for Republican Nomination for U. S. Senator is Close.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 15.—Latest returns from the primaries show former Governor Murphy leading former Governor Stokes for the Republican nomination to succeed John Keen. Stokes' friends claim, however, that the full count will show him the victor.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, insurgent, apparently has been beaten in his attempt to return to congress.

BANKER SLAIN IN AUTO WRECK.

Frederick Crang's Machine is Hit by I. C. Train—Wife Hurt.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 15.—Frederick Crang, prominent as a banker at Clinton, died from injuries received in an automobile accident, his car being struck by an Illinois Central train while crossing the tracks near Clinton. His wife, who was also in the car, received a broken shoulder, broken ribs and other injuries, and is in a serious condition.

Democratic Press to Meet.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Arrangements for the Democratic Press association meeting in St. Louis September 23 were completed by a committee.

Olive Oil to Remove Cinders.

The man with the cinder in his eye was suffering great pain. Every one had a different method of relief to suggest, but nothing had the desired effect. At length one of the bystanders procured a little olive oil from the lunch room. This was poured into the eye and relief was instant. "I learned that method of dealing with cinders while abroad," said the bystander, "and I guess it is about as effective as anything after all."

Why He Carried the Lantern.

A blind man in Kioota (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night, bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one, meeting him, said: "You're blind; it's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

The Silver Horde

By REX BEACH

Author of "The Spoilers" and "The Barrier"

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Ah!" Marsh exclaimed quickly. "Are you an Alaskan, Mr. Emerson?"

"Indeed, he is so wedded to the country that he is going back tomorrow," Mildred offered.

Marsh's first look of challenge now changed to one of the liveliest interest, and he looked at the fellow endeavoring to link him, through the affair at the restaurant, with the presence of Big George in Chicago.

"Yes," Boyd answered cautiously. "I am a typical Alaskan—disappointed, but not discouraged."

"What business?"

"Mining."

"Oh!" indifferently.

"Boyd has something far better than mining now," began Mildred. "He was telling me about it."

"You interrupted us," interjected Emerson, pale-stricken. "I didn't have time to explain the nature of my enterprise."

"The girl was about to put in a disclaimer when he flushed a look at her which she could not help but heed. 'I am very stupid about such things,' she offered easily. 'I would not have understood it. I am sure.' To her father she continued, leaving what she felt to be dangerous ground. 'I didn't talk for you so early.'"

"We finished sooner than I expected," Mr. Wayland answered. "So I drove Willis to his hotel and waited for him to dress. I was afraid he might disappoint us if I let him out of my sight. My dear, I have effected a wonderful deal today," went on her father. "With the help of Mr. Marsh I closed the last details of a consolidation which has occupied me for many months."

"Another trust, I suppose."

"Certain people might call it that," chuckled the old man. "Willis was the inspiring genius and did most of the work; the credit is his."

"May I inquire the nature of this merger?" Emerson ventured.

"Certainly," replied Wayne Wayland. "There is no longer any secret about it. I have combined the packing industries of the Pacific coast under the name of the North American Packers' association."

Boyd felt himself growing numb.

"What do you mean by 'packing industries'?" asked Mildred.

"Canneries," salmon fisheries; we own 90 per cent of the plants of the entire coast, including Alaska. That's why I've been so keen about that north country, Boyd. You never guessed it, eh?"

"No, sir," Boyd stammered.

"Well, we control the supply, and we will regulate the market. We will allow only what competition we desire. It was a beautiful transaction."

"Was he drinking?" Boyd wondered. His mouth was dry, but he managed to inquire:

"What about the independent canneries?"

Marsh laughed. "There is no sentiment in business! There are about 40 per cent too many plants to suit us. I believe I am capable of attending to them."

"Mr. Marsh is the general manager," Wayland explained. "With the market in our own hands and sufficient capital to operate at a loss for a year or two years, if necessary, I don't think the independent plants will cost us much."

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Hudson, Ohio.—"If mothers realized the good your remedies would do delicate girls I believe there would be fewer weak and ailing women. Irregular and painful periods and such troubles would be relieved at once in many cases. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best for ailing girls and run-down women. Their delicate organs need a tonic and the Compound gives new ambition and life from the first dose."—Mrs. GEORGE STRICKLAND, Hudson, Ohio, R. No. 3, Box 32.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Young Girls, Heed This.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, bloating, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by its use.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Now for the first time Emerson realized the impropriety of his own present position. He was here in the Wayland home under false pretenses; they had bared to him secrets not rightly his with which he might arm himself. When this, too, became known to the financier he would regard him not only as a presumptuous enemy, but as a traitor. Boyd knew the old tyrant too well to doubt his course of action; therefore there would be war to the hilt.

The announcement of dinner interrupted his disarrayed reflections, and he walked out in company with Mr. Wayland, who linked arms with him as if to afford Willis Marsh every advantage, leading though it might prove.

"He is a wonderful fellow," the old gentleman observed sotto voce, indistinctly. "One of the keenest business men I ever met."

"Yes?"

"Indeed he is. He is a money maker, too; his associates swear by him. If I were you, my boy, I would study him; he is a good man to imitate."

At the dinner table the talk at first was general and of a character appropriate for the hour, but Miss Wayland, oddly enough, displayed such an unusual thirst for information regarding the North American Packers' association that her father was moved to remark upon it.

"What in the world has come over you, Mildred?" he said. "You never care to hear about my doings before."

"Please don't discourage me," she urged. "I am really in earnest. I should like to know all about this new trust of yours. Perhaps my little university is growing a bit tiresome to me."

"So far it has been all hard work," Wayne Wayland at length announced, "but in the future I propose to derive some pleasure from this affair. I am tired out. For a long time I have been planning a trip somewhere, and now I think I shall make a tour of inspection in the spring and visit the various holdings of the North American Packers' association. In that way I can combine recreation and business."

"How far will you go?" questioned Boyd.

"Clear up to Mr. Marsh's station," "Kalvik?"

"Yes; that is the plan," Marsh chimed in. "You see, I am selfish in urging it, Miss Wayland. I expect you to join the party."

"I am sure you would like it, Mildred," the magnate added.

Boyd could scarcely believe his ears. Would they come to Kalvik? Would they all assemble there in that unmap-ped nook? And, supposing they should, had he the courage to continue his mad enterprise? It was all so unreal! He was torn between the desire to have Mildred agree and fear of the influence Marsh might gain during such a trip. But Miss Wayland evidently had an eye to her own comfort, for she replied:

"No, indeed! The one thing I abhor above land travel is a sea voyage; I am a wretched sailor."

"But this trip on a yacht would be worth while," urged her father. "Why, it will be a regular voyage of discovery. I am as excited over it as a country boy on circus day."

Marsh seconded him with all his powers of persuasion, but the girl, greatly to Emerson's surprise, merely reaffirmed her determination.

"Are there any women in Alaska?" questioned the girl.

"In the mining camps, yes; but we fishermen live lonely lives."

"But the coy, shrinking Indian maidens? I have read about them."

"They are terrible affairs," Marsh declared.

"Not always," Boyd gave voice to his general annoyance. "I have seen some very attractive squaws, particularly breeds."

"Where?" demanded the other.

"Well, at Kalvik, for instance—your home. You must know Chakawana, the girl they call 'the snowbird'?"

"No."

"Come, come! She knows you well."

"Ah, a mystery! He is concealing something!" cried Miss Wayland.

CHAPTER VIII.

MARSH directed a sharp glance at Boyd before answering. "I presume you refer to Con-stantine's sister. I was speaking generally. Of course there are excep-tions. As a matter of fact I wasn't exactly right when I said we had no white women whatever at Kalvik. Mr. Emerson doubtless has met Cherry Ma-lotte?"

"I have," acknowledged Boyd. "She was very kind to me."

"Oh, delightful!" exclaimed Mildred. "First a beautiful Indian girl, now a mysterious white woman! Why, Kalvik is decidedly interesting."

"There is nothing mysterious about the white woman," said Marsh. "She is quite typical—just a plain mining camp hanger-on who drifted down our way."

"Not at all," Boyd disclaimed angrily. "Miss Malotte is a fine woman," then at Marsh's short laugh, "And her conduct bears favorable comparison with that of the other white people at Kalvik."

Marsh allowed his eyes to wander at this, but to Mildred he apologized. "She is not the sort one cares to discuss."

"How do you know?" demanded Cherry's champion. "Do you know anything against her character?"

"I know she is a disturbing element in Kalvik and has caused us a great deal of trouble."

It was Boyd's turn to laugh. "But surely that has nothing to do with her character."

"My dear fellow," Marsh shrugged his shoulders apologetically. "If I had dreamed she was a friend of yours I never would have spoken."

The dinner was finished, and Mr. Wayland had asked for his favorite cigars, so Mildred rose, and Boyd accompanied her, leaving the others to smoke. But, strangely enough, Marsh remained in such a state of preoccupation, even after their departure, that Mr. Wayland's attempts at conversation elicited only the vaguest and shortest of answers.

In the music room Mildred turned upon Boyd. "Why didn't you tell me about this woman before?"

"I didn't think of her."

"And yet she is young, beautiful, refined, lives a romantic sort of existence and entertained you?" She tossed her head, seated herself at the piano and struck a few idle notes, inquiring casually, "Kalvik is the name of the place you are going, isn't it?"

"It is."

"I suppose you will see a great deal of this—Cherry Malotte?"

"Undoubtedly, inasmuch as we are partners."

"Partners?" Mildred ceased playing and swung about. "What do you mean?"

"She is interested in this enterprise. The cannery site is hers."

"I see!" After a moment, "Does this new affair of father's have any particular effect on your plans?"

"Yes and no," he answered, feeling again the weight of this last complication, forgotten for the moment.

"What do you wish me to do?"

"Nothing, only for the present please don't mention my scheme either to him or to Mr. Marsh. I am a bit uncertain as to my course. You see, it means so much to me that I can't bear to give it up, and yet it may lead to great-unpleasantness."

She nodded comprehendingly.

On that very night, in a little snow smothered cabin crouching close against the Kalvik bluff, another girl was seated at a piano. Her slim, white fingers had strayed upon the notes of a song which Boyd Emerson had sung. In her dream filled eyes was the picture of a rough garbed, silent man at her shoulder, and in her ears was the sound of his voice. Clear to the last melting note she played the air, and then a pitiful sob shook her. She bowed her golden head and hid her face in her arms, for a memory was upon her, a forgotten kiss was hot upon her lips, and she was very lonely.

At the hotel Emerson found Clyde and Fraser in Bill's room awaiting him. They were noisy and excited at the prospect of the enterprise and at the prospect of immediate action.

Boyd told them little of the news that had startled him earlier in the evening beyond the bare fact that Marsh had floated a packers' trust and that secrecy for the present was now doubly necessary to the success of their undertaking. The full significance of the merger, therefore, did not strike his associates, even when on the train the next day they read the announcement of its formation in the newspapers. But alone took notice of it and fell into a furious rage at his enemy's success.

No sooner were they fairly under way for the west than Emerson began the definite shaping of his plans. He and George carefully went over the many details of their coming work and sent many messages, with the result that outfitters in a dozen lines were awaiting them when they arrived in Seattle. Without loss of time Boyd installed himself and his friends at a hotel, secured a competent and close mouthed stenographer, and then sought out the banker with whom he had made a tentative agreement before going to Chicago. Mr. Hilliard greeted him cordially.

"I see you have carried out your part of the program," said he, "but before we definitely commit ourselves we should like to know what effect this new trust is going to have on the cannery business."

"You mean the N. A. P. A.?"

"Precisely. Our Chicago correspond-ent can't tell us any more than we have learned from the press—namely, that a combination has been formed. We are naturally somewhat cautious about financing a competitive plant until we know what policy the trust will pursue."

Here was exactly the complication Boyd had feared; therefore it was with some trepidation that he argued:

"The trust is in business for the money, and its very formation ought to be conclusive evidence of your good judgment. However, you have backed so many plants such as mine that you know as well as I do the big profits to be taken."

"That isn't the point. Ordinarily we would not waver an instant, but the Wayland-Marsh outfit is apt to upset conditions. If we only knew—"

"I know," boldly declared Boyd. "Mr. Wayland outlined his policy to me before the public knew anything about the trust."

This is the Stove Polish All the Housewives Are Talking About

It is so much better than any other stove polish that it is a class all by itself.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or wash off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish.

Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware dealers.

All works is a trial. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money.

A Fat Reducer.
Before starting to starve or drug off your extra layers of fat try the effect of this simple exercise, which is a great reducer of adipose tissue. Standing with knees close together, rise on the tips of the toes, and, at the same time, elevate the chest and force down the palms of the hands as if pushing hard on a board. Bend the hands up slightly so the muscular strain comes on the fleshy part of the hand close to the wrist.
Do this whenever you happen to think of it during the day, and you will soon notice a decided difference in your flesh, particularly in a prominent abdomen.

TIZ-For Sore Feet

Tired, Aching, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet? Corns, Callouses or Bunions? Use TIZ. It's Sure, Quick And Certain.

You Will Enjoy Using TIZ. The Most Pleasant Remedy You Ever Tried—And Moreover It Works.

At last here is instant relief and a lasting, permanent remedy for sore feet. No more swelling, hot, aching feet. No more corns. No more bunions. No more callouses, no matter what ails your feet or what under the skin you've tried without getting relief, just try TIZ.

TIZ is totally unlike anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous excretions which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget your aching sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box or direct if you wish from Walter Lather Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

CHIEF CLERK FOR ROCK COUNTY, STATE OF WISCONSIN.

Elizabeth A. Beddall, Plaintiff, vs. Gaille A. Beddall, Defendant.

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN TO THE SAID DEFENDANT:

YOU ARE HEREBY SUMMONED to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to demand of the complaint, of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

J. J. CUNNINGHAM, Plaintiff's Attorney.

P. O. Address, Janesville, 215 Hayes Bldg., Rock Co., Wis.

Notice of Hearing.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, County Court for Rock County.

Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the County Court to be held in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the third Tuesday, being the 20th day of September 1910, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and concluded:

The application of Frank H. Jackson to admit to Probate the Last Will and Testament of John Watson late of the City of Janesville, in said County, deceased.

Dated August 17, 1910.

By the Court.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length!"

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention it needs to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when the scalp is dry, the hair simply falls out its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon in a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Known to Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair styling remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large number free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the following liberal offer.

Dr. W. E. Schallenberger

The Noted Specialist of Chicago Will Visit Janesville at MYERS HOTEL, FRIDAY, SEPT. 30TH.

FROM 8 A. M. TO 6 P. M.

Chronic Diseases Successfully Treated.

The doctor has such wonderful success in the treatment of certain diseases that he feels fully warranted in making the following liberal offer.

He will make a thorough examination and tell you just what can be done; what the treatment will cost, and about how long it will take to effect a cure.

Dr. Schallenberger wants every person who suffers from a chronic disease—it makes no difference how long and their case is, or how long they have suffered, or who has treated them and pronounced them incurable, to call and consult him. He will make a thorough examination of their case, tell exactly what can be done, whether they are curable or not, how long it will require and all about it. He treats chronic Stomach Trouble, Liver Disease, Constipation, Rheumatism, Bladder Trouble, Disease of the Kidneys, Chronic Catarrh in all its forms, Heart and Nerve Trouble, Diseases of women a specialty.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, September 15, 1870.—Jottings.—The Wisconsin State Fair, to be held at Milwaukee, commences on Monday, the 26th inst.

The flag of the German Confederation hangs from one of the front windows of the Concordia Hall.

A tile drain is being constructed to carry off the waste water from the Corn Exchange pump.

Weeks are getting the start of the grass in the lower end of the park. They should be exterminated before the seed falls.

The prize for the "best baby" on exhibition at the Southern Wisconsin fair can be seen at Webb's. It is a silver tea set, consisting of four pieces, of elegant design, and is handsomely enough to make any baby have decently for an hour or two.

RURAL NEWS

ALBANY. Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. August Maulcock and son, Harry, visited friends at Roscoe during the week.

LeRoy Gilbertson, one of last year's graduates, is attending normal school at Whitewater this year.

The Misses Lolla and Hattie Turner spent last week in Chicago.

The Albany band will play at the Green county fair on Thursday of this week.

Robert and Harry Smiley, sons of Wm. Smiley, left Saturday with a number of heads of sheep to exhibit at the state fair, which is being held in Milwaukee this week.

Those from here who heard Rosevelt in Freeport on Thursday were: John Flora, Dr. Hilschcock, H. H. Warren, A. H. Connelley, M. J. Harrington, J. V. Atchison, Adolph Meinert, J. D. Ayers, Roy Phelps and Cletor Zentner. They made the trip in automobiles.

Mrs. J. H. Putnam of Boulder, Colo., is visiting her mother and brother, Mrs. Almina Carver and T. M. Carver.

PORTER. Sept. 14.—Miss Abbie McCarthy and Miss Carlsman of Janesville expect to return to their home the last of the week, after a month's vacation.

Mrs. Dennis Chasey returned home on Monday from Rubicon, Wis., where she has been visiting her brothers.

A large crowd attended the social at the home of Frank Ross on Friday evening and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brunell are happy over the arrival of a daughter at their home.

Rev. Fr. Harlin of Edgerton and sister, Mrs. Glose and niece, Miss Harlin of Fond du Lac, and Miss Frawley attended the church social at the home of Frank Ross on Friday evening.

Chas. McCarthy continues in about the same state of semi-consciousness. Mrs. Mary McCarthy and sister, Mrs. Chas. McCarthy, accompanied the former's son, Dennis, to Madison hospital where an operation was performed for appendicitis. He is reported to be getting along nicely.

John Bates was slightly hurt on Sunday by one of his horses. While returning from Edgerton on meeting an auto he undertook to hold the horse by the head, when the animal threw him and trampled on him.

Thos. Cassidy went to Chicago Monday night with a carload of hogs. He had sixty of his own that averaged a little over 250 pounds apiece.

Mrs. Eva Strobbe of Peoria, and Mrs. Carrie Hatter of Janesville, spent a few days at the home of their brother, Chas. Hauge and family, last week.

The fine rains have made the pastures and lawns green as spring again.

MILTON JUNCTION.

Milton Junction, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gates left this morning for Milwaukee in their auto to attend the fair.

Mrs. Mable Rye of Johnson and son are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Which this week.

Mrs. D. E. Thorpe is on the sick list this week. She is improving, so will be able to be out in a day or so.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hunsinger and Harry Hinkley and Mrs. Altha Williams are attending the state fair this week.

Archie Cullen, Jr., is on the sick list, but is reported as improving this morning.

A large number from this village attended the conference of the M. E. church at Edgerton last Sunday. The conference sends the Rev. Porter, who has been here for the past four years to West Bend and will send Rev. Neff here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Thorpe and daughter spent Sunday in Janesville visiting Mrs. Thorpe's parents.

A GOOD EXCUSE

Beryl—Why, Delush is still drinking, though he promised faithfully not to look on the wine when it was red.

Sibyl—Oh, he claims to be color blind.

The Combustible Clive.

As long ago as the middle of the eighteenth century, a famous Georgian actress, Mrs. Kitty Clive, felt the call of the nerves commonly associated with modern women. The whole green room, according to the author of "Garlick and his Circle," feared her tantrums.

Her character stood high, but her clean, wholesome nature and honest heart scarcely offset her temper. She was the one player Garlick feared, and he did everything he could to disperse her nerve storms, or, if they broke, assuage them. It is among the legends of the English stage that he said to her:

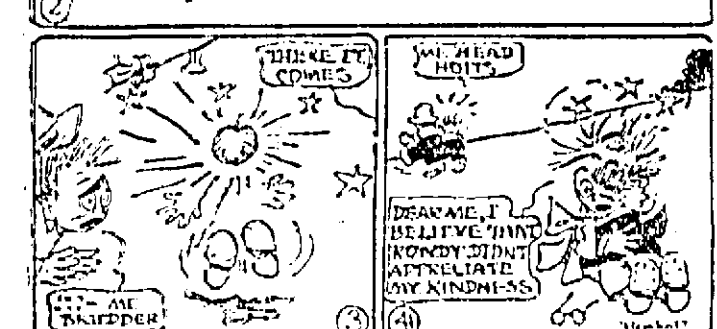

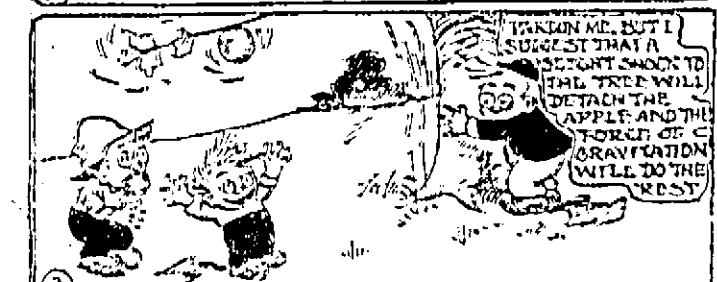

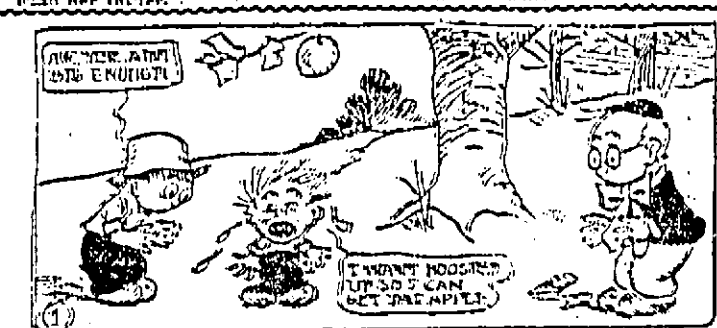

"I have heard of tarter and brimstone, but you are the cream of one and the flower of the other!"—Youth's Companion.

HOT AND COLD.

Hot and sultry was the day,
So I've since been told,
When I proposed to Mary,
Who gave it to me cold.

The mercury stood at ninety-three,
As the mercury often will;
But the answer May handed back to me
Gave me an awful chill.

WILLIE WISE.

The Real Heroines.
The papers make much of a girl saving an army deserter who tried to drown himself in Long Island Sound, but many a girl has done the same for men drowning themselves in whiskey.—Detroit Journal.

A Gift for a Baby.
A charming gift for a new baby is a set of washed gold safety pins. These are not the small sets connected by a chain used to fasten the little frocks, but are ordinary safety pins specially gold washed for the purpose.

NO DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, GAS OR ANY OTHER STOMACH DISTRESS.

Relief in Five Minutes Awaits Every man or woman who suffers from a bad Stomach.

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapypsin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable ailments. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacy a 50-cent box of Pappe's Diapypsin you can always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headaches or stomach misery all next day; and besides you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pappe's Diapypsin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a Stomach Headache.

You couldn't keep a bandier or more useful article in the house.
